Brief Insights

A DIGITAL BULLETIN - February 2023

John A. DeGasperis: Hudson Valley's Brain Injury Lawyer

A traumatic brain injury (TBI) can be caused by a forceful bump, blow or jolt to the head or body. Some types of TBI can cause temporary or short-term problems with normal brain function, including problems with how the person thinks, understands, moves, communicates, and acts. A more serious TBI can lead to severe and permanent disability, and even death.

Some injuries are considered primary, meaning the damage is immediate. Other outcomes of TBI can be secondary, meaning they can occur gradually over the course of hours, days or appear weeks later.
